

Olivier Védrine

Paris, France. Editor of EUFAJ since its foundation in autumn 2009. Got his Bachelor degree in an American university in France, later an MBA degree. Academic teacher, researcher, journalist, conference speaker – as lecturer on behalf of the European Commission (in the experts' network Team Europe France), journalist not only in European blogs but also as Chief Editor of the Russian edition of the "Revue Défense Nationale". Associate researcher for the University of Québec in Montréal (UQAM) in Canada and the Russian

Institute of Strategic Researches (RISS) in Moscow. He was also Professor at the léseg School of Management of the Université Catholique de Lille, visiting lecturer at universities in Moscow and Omsk/Russia, and other universities in Germany, Italy, Turkey, Azerbaijan. Since summer 2012 Rector of The Continental University, Kiev/Ukraine (attached to Drahomanov National Pedagogical University in Kiev).